Personal Profile:

I am a hard-working friendly individual who can work within a range of environments; I have experience of working on my own and as part of a team. I consider myself conscientious, dedicated, confident and have a good sense of humour, building great relationships with anyone and everyone.

I ensure that all my work is done to the best of my ability and meets strict deadlines. I am willing to work at any time of the day from early in the morning to late at night. I'm open minded which allows me to work on other people's ideas and listen to people's opinion.

Skills:

I pride myself in always being polite and considerate towards colleagues. I enjoy meeting new challenges and have a number of interests. As well as working in a team, I'm happy conducting work alone.

I have been taught, and gained specific experience in the following software:
